

Cup at Wimbledon in 1913, a year after the disaster. It will be priced at £3500.

Left: these 19th century Chief Disciples of Buddha, carved in teak wood and purchased in Myanmar (Burma), are priced at £529 on the stand of new exhibitor H.D. Asian Art at Harrogate. There is a similar pair in the Victoria and Albert Museum.

Seabrook from Cambridgeshire and Melody Antiques, Chester, both with oak and country furniture, and inlaid furniture specialist Mark Buckley Antiques of West Yorkshire.

Incidentally, at Sue Ede's last fair at Powderham Castle in Devon (March

2-4) there were some healthy sales of decorative furniture for Devon dealer James Gould of Apollo Antiques, Guy Dennler from Dorset, Domani of Exeter, and Mark Seabrook from Cambridgeshire.

www.cooperevents.com

Above: a flame mahogany clock by William Lassell of c.1785, priced at £8800 f Clocks at Harrogate.

